rush days transformed the quad into a bustling old miner's camp. One observer told the story: "Well, pardner. I rode into this here Wilson corral about cockcrow and, by jiminy, there was kids carrying on all over! Decoratin' booths, sellin' griddle cakes, hammerin', buildin', all fit to fiddle! By the time I got my mule tethered, them booths were open. Home baked food, a mine ride that 'bout whisked my whiskers, a good ol' dunkin' booth, a marryin' place I strictly avoided, bagels and balloons, cotton candy for my mule Sadie, and a pillow brawlin' place. This Wilson town had two saloons, and I don't mind sayin' I compared both (hic!). That drama place took the gold nuggets, though, bein' those dance hall girls looked purty 'nuff to tame any varmit. Asked one to spark, she called the sheriff who threw me in the Lambda Phi jail! Then came some "assembly" where those kids carried on again on three wheeled contraptions. Some critter asked if I was goin' to the "game" that night. Said I should see Wilson horse whip Jordan. But I had to be movin' on, had to ride into the sunset."

repeated itself. And repeated itself. After wearing previous sophomore and junior princess crowns. Pam Harrison again won votes and a title. At the daytime assembly she, Leslie Harmening, and Tequila Johnson were named Senior Princesses. The student body waited until the evening game to hear Pam announced Queen and to see her crowned. Monette Movius and Margo DeLorto, Junior and Sophomore Princesses, and the two senior princesses then reigned with Pam over Wilson's football game.

filled the air as our Bruin Orchestra once again delivered a supreme year of award-winning music. Mr. Rolland Sandberg plus 95 talented artists made up the precise combination of a beautiful symphonic orchestra which repeated another season of being rated one of the top five in the nation. The group traveled to San Diego and numerous other cities to take part in music festivals and gained superior honors in all. Classtime and evening practices paid off as capacity audiences were delighted by polished concerts, including the outstanding holiday program and annual spring festival.

Originating more than 16 years ago -Z- girls have always carried with them an air of involvement and this year was not to be an exception. Besides participating in their own activities (GRA, Yell, Bruinettes, Pepsters, and holding offices) -Z- got together to take part in homecoming, furnish gifts for their -Z- guys and sell consessions at home water polo games. Zygomas not only helped the school, but also helped to fulfill the senior year of 20 girls and therefore make it all that much more enjoyable and unforgettable.

this year. Throughout the year, Key's high spirited antics at pep rallies and at homecoming intensified the rivalry with other Moore League schools. But Key was not stagnant in the service field either. Assisting Kiwanis in community activities, as well as starting projects of their own, this group of young men worked toward helping those not as fortunate as most. To round out the year, Key planned social activities ranging from the annual Key-Faculty Football Game in the fall, to the Cellar Creep in the spring.

Varsity Lettermen's Club was reformed this year under the leadership of Steve Mullen. The club was active selling tickets for sports events throughout the year.

the Bicentennial seemed to be this year's main goal, and helping to fulfill the goal were the 75-76 Pepsters. A halftime used in commemorating the nation's birthday proved worthwhile of the hours of practice. Costumes, red white and blue flags and pompoms, plus decorative devices on batons added to the over all halftime success. In addition to working on routines the pepsters, with Mrs. Kemp as their sponsor, perfected rock outs and yells and also put to use what was taught to them at different summer camps. New this year at Wilson was the position of feature majorette, Jenny Bozoff. Responsibility of leading the groups was given to Patti Long (head pepster), Tracey Brotz (head majorette), Janice Johansen (head flag), and Tina Byers (head song).

illustrated the spirit generated during pep rallies and assemblies. The pulsing rhythm of the stageband set the beat for the Pepster's lively routines. Yell leaders, accompanied by the Pepsters and Bruinettes, stimulated the student body with soul-stirring yells and cheers. Skits, guest speakers, and special movie made by Ms. Townley's film analysis class on football season highlights were added attractions. Whether outside or inside, "Bruin Power" was obvious throughout these events.

Drummers pounded the beat and eardrums vibrated with the noise at the last football rally of the year.

of Bruinettes splashed onto the football field and performed their routines. The colorful group astonished Wilson spectators and friendly rivals with their "Go Go Get 'Em Get 'Em'' spirit and imaginative half-time shows. Candy sales and a trip to Disneyland highlighted the year's activities. With the encouragement of the famed Ms. McGrew and Ms. Hinds, and the constant pounding of heads, Elaine Jurgensen and Debbie Ferrone, the Bruinettes once again performed with the expertise required to be No. 1.

of red and gold t-shirts, pom poms, Bruin hats, and explosive voices characterized that rooting section known as the Rally girls. Their school spirit extended beyond the bleachers to weekly meetings. Led by Rally Chairman Tara Carter, members planned a bakery both for homecoming, made posters, and organized a dance.

The most irresistible Bruin had to have been our beloved mascot, Woody. His jovial personality and frolicsom capers seemed to warm the hearts of all

This year's Sophomore Yell was comprised of seven devoted and hard-working girls. They displayed their talent at pep rallies and their vivaciousness at the Sophomore and J.V. games.

enthusiasm

and spirit ignited each performance of our zealous, co-ed 1975-76 Yell Team. The ten cheerleaders attended camp in San Diego and began daily practices in July. Their participation in pep rallies, poster painting, the polishing of a style highlighted with gymnastics and unique partner stunts, and the introduction of two new cheers got the Bruins rowdier and more excited than ever.

gathering

historical notes from Wilson's first 50 years was one of the jobs of the '75-'76 campanile staff. The copy in the 1955 yearbook expressed our feelings. "There is not an adjective left in our writers, the editors are busy with aspirin, the sponsor is studying the timetables to Antarctica-what can we say about ourselves? We are going to rest awhile on a stack of negatives, galleys, and chewed up fingernails and let the words go with this: we tried it-we made it-we hope you like it."

telling

it like it was, Loudspeaker staff produced a quality newspaper, by encouraging students to express their ideas in letters to the editor, by dealing with more contemporary issues on the editorial pages and by including more pictures with more action shots.

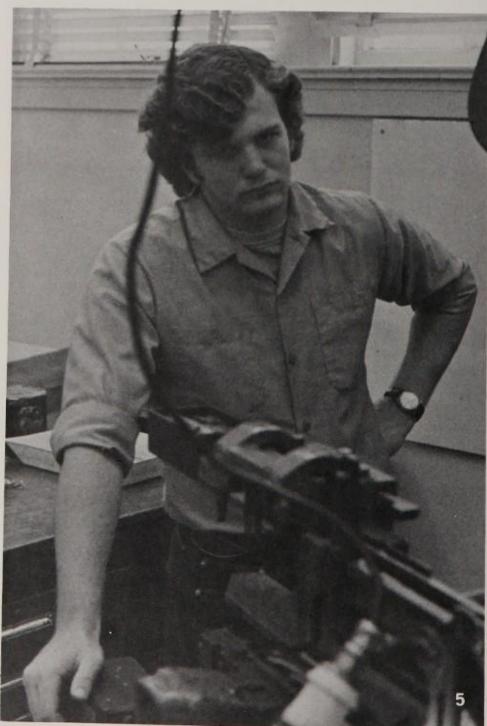

Loudspeaker staff would not be complete without the print shop. The printers, with the help of Mr. Harold Rattenbury, their director, helped to produce more regular and several special issues. Guided by Ms. Nancy Stimson and Editor Jeff Barmeyer, the Loudspeaker covered events ranging from sports to musicals and from school activities to national issues of student interest.

school activities and representing students in school government, Fall student council busied themselves improving conditions for students at Wilson. First semester, student council exchanged ideas with other schools through conferences and visitations and planned the homecoming festivities. The council also worked on the revision of the Bear Facts and service points, and instituted the publication of a biweekly fine arts bulletin. Serving student needs and providing a strong voice to the administration were two accomplishments of Fall council.

marked my outlook for the success of the Spring Student Council. With a cooperative effort by the members of the council, the initial ideals we set were fulfilled. Hoping to see an enactment of my own personal convictions, I urged the group to gear its thoughts not only toward school related affairs, but also on projects for the betterment of the community-for example, a permanant recycling center on campus. The members of the council succeeded in serving their school admirably, and gaining valuable experience while so doing.

to working hard, the Naval Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps began one month before summer vacation ended. They drilled diligently after school, on week-ends, and one month into summer. Over the nine years of participating in parades and drill competitions, the cadets received more than 50 trophies. This year's rifle team rated 25th in the nation.

Field trips offered real experience as 50 cadets toured the Pacific Missile Range-Naval Missile Center at Point Mugu. Also on March 28 to April 2, 8 cadets left on a navy cruise that took them out to sea.

The NJROTC program enabled students to readily enter the Naval Academy and to start at a higher pay scale in the military. Most of the program was run by Cadet Commander David Ecklund and his staff.

bold and brilliant, were sculptured on the stage into harmonious patterns. The advanced dance class worked wholeheartedly on the dance concert, Horizons, held in April. The girls went to special workshops during the year, where they learned many new ideas and dance maneuvers for the concert. With a skilled and tactful eye, Mrs. Mason assisted the girls with rough spots as well as teaching the intermediate dancers basic skills in body movements and choreography. For the first time, sophomores and boys participated in the concert, and both groups added a very creative and individual touch.

crescendo, even tempo, retardendo, pianissimo, and mezzoforte are examples of the choral room "lingo". Mr. Mays' excellent direction and Mrs. Rhoda MacPherson's guiding accompaniment was reflected with each group's various performances. Vocal Ensemble sang for different organizations like the Retired Naval Officers and the National Secretaries Assoc. Along with the other singing classes, they participated in the Christmas concert, Spring concert, and the musical. As always, audiences were pleased and entertained with each vocal presentation.

one, act one. The Rainbow Playhouse. Enter two persons.

Person 1. Where are we?

Person 2: It's supposed to be a classroom, but this arena, and that platform . . . it looks more like a stage.

Voice: It is a stage.

Person 1 and Person 2: (ad lib) What? Huh? Who? Voice: Yes, this is the stage that has seen many a fledgling actor earn his wings. This stage held presidents, nuns, and tigers from the ensemble chorus of Brown Pelican. Produced in the fall, Pelican warned of ecological disaster.

This stage became a mental institute in David and Lisa, student directed by Pam Jacobus. This stage was a playground, a living room, an asylum, and a highway for second-year students and their one acts. This stage changed a Homecoming saloon to classroom scenes of The Glass Menagerie.

Person 1: (whispered to Person 2) Wow! That's an awful lot for one stage!

Voice: And that's only the first semester.

Second semester...

Brown Pelican guards (Alan Alpert and Sean Davitt) threatened curator Jeff Tanager (Rick Pallaziol) and his ally the tiger(Kendall Feeney). 3. Carlos (Gary Berk) and his imaginary guitar ignored the chess game. But Lisa (Melanie Monios) tried to distract David and Simon (John Elder and Tony Rayner). 4. For awhile, crayons linked the separate worlds of David and Lisa. 5. "Half the population must die," observed the professor. Stacey Sewell and Val Carlton cried out against the idea at a Brown Pelican rehearsal. 6. Georgie (John Davis) told his Umpire State building tall-tale to the kids of Once Upon a Playground.

-the-pooh and his friends visited this Rainbow Playhouse. With them came the Hundred Acre Woods, creative and energetic characterizations, and busloads of school children. Ranchman, a short one act produced for the CSULB Drama Festival, rehearsed its execution scenes here. The one acts brought waves of sewage, a birthday cake, and strange and weird voices in the spring. Scenes, songs, dances, and waitresses filled this Playhouse for three nights of Coffee House. Finally, Prisoner of Second Avenue presented tears and laughs. Mr. Bowden directed leads Kevin Brief, Sean Davitt, Loretta Lowe, and Pam Jacobus in Neil Simon's comedy of city-life . . . may I have your attention please? (Slam) Attention please! (Slam) (Slam). Woodrow Wilson did a show to beat all shows, oh yes! It was by far the most tremendous (Slam), stupendous (Slam), overall largest productions they've ever done! There was a cast of eighty plus orchestra, pom-pom girls, and the marching band with golden trombones -Raaaa-raaa, ra-da-da-da-da. Well, I say nothin' could have happened if it weren't for special people. People with a capital P and that rhymes with D and that stands for directors. Co-directing, said, co-directing were Mr. King and Mr. Mays. (Slam) Orchestra, pit orchestra was led by Mr. Sandberg-some sound! As sure as the Lord made little green apples, those dancin' kids were good! Choreography was to the tee, because of Marrillyn McDowell. Remember my friends the stage design Mr. Eilerman did up so fine! I guess they saved the best for last, oh my favorite was the last when . . . students voiced their opinions through a number of committees. Composed of department heads and students, Curriculum Committee worked to provide a better selection of classes. Among the topics debated this year was whether to give History credit in Symposium.

Student Interest Committee served as a liason between students and administration. Current problems such as racial tension and smoking areas were discussed.

Students responded to our country's 200th birthday with the formation of the Bicentennial Committee, which attempted to get Wilson in a patriotic spirit by painting trash cans and planting a bicentennial garden.

Principal's Advisory Committee formed a subcommittee on human relations to work on problems here at Wilson.

was the password used by all Girls' League members. Introducing sophomores to "Wilson life" at the annual Big-Little Sister picnic, filling Jordanites with delicious pizza before the homecoming football game, and generally promoting friendship and good times for the faculty and student body made for a very busy and fun-filled year. The girls told Mrs. Cooke, the new advisor of GLAB, not to worry; everything would get done-and it did. She summed up the girls as being "nice, responsible, and helpful."

of their heritage, members of Fecha and the Black Students Club involved themselves in many activities. The cultural dancing of Fecha was seen in the first Construct, in Kampus Kapers and on Cinco de Mayo Day. Members also sold Mexican food at Homecoming and organized a historical bulletin booth. Much of the Black Students' Club's activities revolved around Black History Week. The theme of the week acknowledged black peoples' contribution to performing arts. They did this through singing, a piano solo and dancing.

 The spirit of Mexican culture was exhibited by Caroline Carmen and Janette Ignacio.
 Rafael Nieto taught Ermie Casares and Janette Ignacio difficult steps to a dance.

Wilson students beat the insurance red tape. Interested people formed facets of the Explorer Outpost in sports they liked. The Backpacking Club proved to be the most popular this year. Mr. Phillip Andersen, Mr. Marten Kallenberger and Dana Brown led 106 Bruins in organizing and developing their backpacking skills. Members were able to get away from it all with trips to the Joshua Tree Forest, San Jacinto and the Sierras.

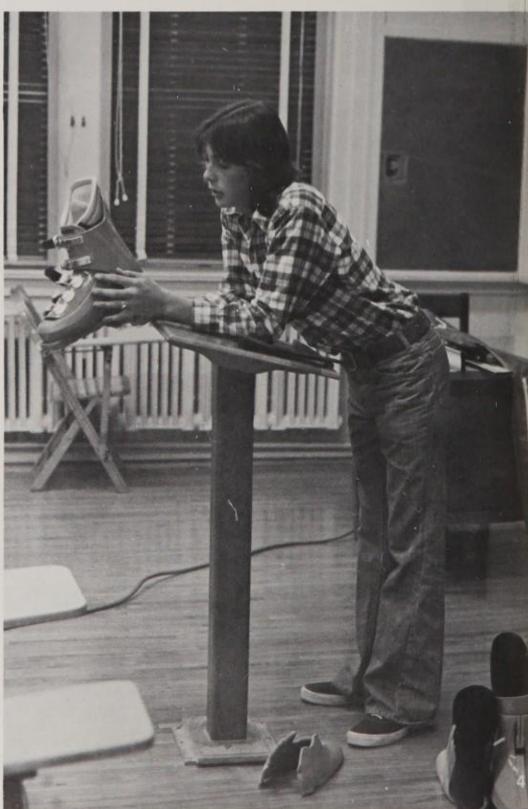

The Water Ski Club, the only one of its kind known in Southern California, made a splash on campus. Almost every weekend, Marine Stadium or Golden Ave nue was the site of skiing get-togethers organized by sponsor Denis Richmond. At the end of the season members celebrated with a steak barbaque. Water Ski President was Jeff Disney; Vice President, Steve Hausheer and Secretary, Lucy Rowell.

Karen McGrew sponsored the Snow Ski Club to continue this active group. A late snow season hampered their plans but not their spirit. The members had beautiful skiing for five days at Lake Tahoe and then again for a weekend in Mammoth. With the leadership of Mike Schroeder, Lisa Holzman, Mark Gross, and Theresa Anderson meetings offered films and speakers.

clubs made a great showing this year at Wilson.
Bruins displayed their wide variety of interests by forming diverse recreational groups. One of these organizations was the Bowling Club, sponsored by Mr. Sol Ashkenenaze. Students gathered every Tuesday at Java Lanes afterschool and formed small teams for league play. President Jeff McMurray and Vice President John Tolbert kept track of statistics and standings throughout the year.

Bacchus after the Greek god who symbolizes pleasure and good times. Dedication characterized members as they were everpresent flinging frisbees all around the Wilson quad. The purpose of this club was for students to develop their frisbee skills with fun workouts. This group was led by Jim Hamil and sponsored by Mrs. Ethel Welton of the counseling office. From Bacchus stemmed the powerful Wilson Frisbee Team which affiliated with the International Frisbee Association to be included in a seven team league which competed all over the county. Co-captains of the team were Will Allen and Sean Davitt.

asked me if it was hard to adjust to Wilson. At first I had the feeling I was lost, especially during lunch period. Wilson is a very large school. My school at home has about 900 students from 4 to 17 years old.

At Wilson I am in the student council, Vocal Ensemble, AFS, German Club, GRA, NHS, and the 4.0 club.

"I am an exchange student from Tucson, Arizona and am staying in Long Beach for one semester. The AFS domestic program has given me an opportunity not only to learn of other lifestyles, but also to learn and discover myself. The kids here share the same ideas and interests as those back home, so I find myself fitting right in. I have been kept busy with several AFS assemblies and short term exchanges, enjoying and benefitting from all."

-Mary Lynn Dodson

Beside intelligence and a knack with numbers, the Wilson Math Team had Mr. Anderson to coordinate. The team consisted of twelve exceptional mathematicians who excelled in almost every contest entered. The All-City champs gained five firsts out of six events; they won fifth out of 118 schools in the Occidental Contest, and this was their fourth straight year in the Pomona Contest finals.

Mr. Powell's instruction on voice quality, intonation, inflection, speed, and articulation, along with his potential students provided Wilson with a top notch Speech Team. They met daily to practice and better speeches to be delivered in competitions, tournaments, and at service clubs. Some were pre-written and others were impromptu. This year, member Frank McCabe qualified for the State Tournament held in San Francisco.

to campus problems and suggestions to help alleviate them arose at Senior class council meetings this year. The upperclassmen raised money through candy sales, secret admirers days, and a homecoming pillow fight to purchase a gift worthy of the class of '76. The most important date on the agenda remained June 16. For most, this date marked the ending of their three years at Wilson, and a new beginning elsewhere.

1. Senior class officers were: Fall President Kevin Brief, Spring President Cory Cosenza; Fall Vice President Marilyn Montague, Spring Vice President Tina Byers; Spring Secretary Steffanie Gantes, Fall Secretary Twila Johnson. 2. Everyone caught up on the latest school scoop before the meeting.

saw two new faces enter the administrative officers. Mrs. Cooke and Mr. Parent filled the vacant assistant principal jobs. Though no longer a rookie, Mr. Ellis continued to keep communication channels open. His second year as principal brought staff and students closer. People saw him in the crowds sharing thoughts, but Mr. Ellis also liked to think alone:

I walk the halls of Wilson High School and I hear many things. When school is in session these halls ring with laughter, resound with voices, echo the footsteps of students. When I walk them alone they are quiet. Yet somehow that laughter, those voices, those footsteps linger on. It seems almost that sounds of fifty years can still be heard-the eager cry of victory ringing out from field and gym and pool; the agony of silence following defeat; the sweet sound of concert and play, of speech and dance. Yes, for fifty years tens of thousands of students have lived a part of their lives in these halls. Together they have made the Wilson legend. For 200 years our nation has made its mark upon the history of mankind. For the last fifty of those years Wilson has been part of that great tradition. I walk the halls and I hear the sound of voices that truly are Wilson High. I feel small and humble, yet proud. I find strength in those who came before me. I offer hope to those who will come after to keep the legend alive.

Robert Ellis Principal

Alta Cooke Assistant Principal

Edward McKenzie Vice Principal

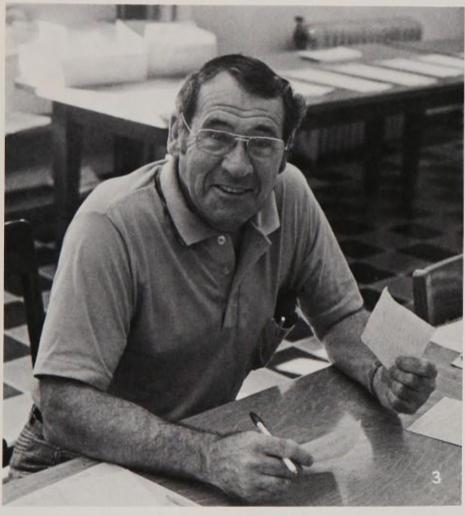

1. Mr. Ellis looked to the tricycle races on homecoming day. In his well known stance, Mr. Ellis explained with one hand and rattled his keys with the other. 2. Listening to a student, Mr. McKenzie summed up another story. 3. One does not need words for Mr. Ware's face. 4. Ms. Cooke inspired Girls League members to attend meetings. 5. Mr. Parent took over Mr. Workman's job as assistant principal; he was in charge of the Independent Studies Program.

into the counseling office, students requested program changes, and scholarship and college information. The seven counselors got ready for the neverending battle against thousands of enrollment cards. They made a constant effort to satisfy the needs of the student population. Max Fraley began his first year at Wilson as counselor and sophomore basketball coach.

Marcine Landon Jean Lowentrout

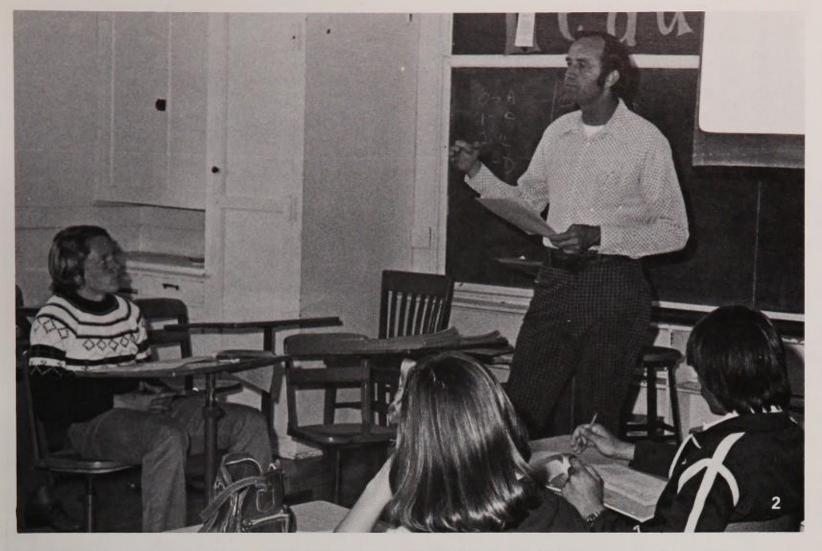

Mr. Honey's serious side seemed to come out as he discussed N.H.S. qualifications.
 Service with a smile is Mr. Bagshaw's motto.
 Mrs. Landon readied sophomores for their junior year.
 Mr. Riddick explained the necessary credits needed for graduation.
 Mrs. Lowentrout checked transcripts of incoming students.

love and devotion put Ms. Marty Walker where she is today: helping blind students work towards a rewarding future. Her service extended to coaching golf; Ms. Walker was the sole woman varsity coach at Wilson, and led her team to league championships. She loves to travel, has been to 89 different countries and all 50 states, but was mostly dedicated to serving those here at Wilson.

to Wilson High, Mr. Hendricks coached tennis for some twenty years, the longest in the Moore League. A graduate of the University of Santa Barbara, he taught science, English, history, social studies, and health. Back in the forties when Mr. Hendricks attended Wilson, the school operated on a rotating schedule—four days in each classroom, one free period a day. Students wore uniforms, football was the Big Sport and fraternities and sororities sponsored many dances. Through the many years spent at Wilson, Mr. Hendricks has seen many changes.

by a strong interest in outdoor sports, and a desire to work with his hands, Denis Richmond had many hobbies. Water skiing, tennis, ice skating, model airplane construction, auto mechanics, football, baseball, bicycling, and flying, filled his hours outside the ciassroom.

As an alumni looking back, Mr. Richmond remembered when school was different. The administration.

people contributed special services for students. Ms. McGrew, the first female activities director at Wilson and in Long Beach, spent her first year busily involved with Zygomas, student council, the musical, the organization of all activities, and Bruinettes.

The nurse, Mrs. Sowa, spent many long hours helping those who need her services-some of which include screening test for Driver Training, P.E. excuses and medical referrals for all health problems.

After three and a half years at Wilson, Keith Waibel, the band assistant was involved with the Stage Band 2 and Concert Band. They performed at festivals, concerts, football games, and special events at Disneyland and Magic Mountain. Directing the musical, the Music Man was Dennis King. Besides working out front with his cast, Mr. King and the stage crew built all the sets for campus productions.

Managing and running the media center, the librarians helped students benefit from the center's resources.

Taking time from her many varied jobs, Ms. McGrew addressed incoming sophomores.

learning for the brightest and the slowest was possible in the Media Center. "It in no way requires a change or compromise of academic objectives, rather, it helps to achieve on an individual basis," Librarian, Mrs. Kramer, went on to say, "The center provides a realistic approach for students to work as inquiring learners. As students work independently, apart from external pressure and competition, they learn to explore, define, and develop their own interests and abilities."

paint brushes, paper, easels, clay and imagination made Wilson's art department what it was. Many students took advantage of the various art medias to express themselves in constructive ways. The highlight of the year was the student art show held during Public Schools Week. The show displayed over a thousand pieces of student work.

1. Mr. Eilerman and Mari Galvond compared finished product to guide. 2. To tell you the truth, Sue Coulter was pretty proud. 3. Patience and precision often are the ingredients which put imagination on paper. 4. Mike Benavidez and Ginny Ridder did the tedious but necessary job of preparing clay. 5. Art turns to more strenuous activity when it came to stage design.

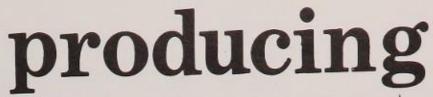

1. Showing his carpentry techniques, Bill Swinson sanded a strip of wood. 2. Tom Barile cleaned the pistons before he continued his work.

3. Designing a house, Mike Markley worked hard on his layout. 4. Industrial drawing student sketched a gun from a newspaper advertisement. 5. Adjusting the printing machine, Pat Clarey helped print Loudspeaker. 6. Micha Plumley welded in auto shop.

Loudspeaker, Beartracks, posters, programs and tickets, printing class gained much experience and skill

Students of architecture learned architectural drafting and design. At the beginning of the year they started from scratch and finished the year with a completed building.

Auto class brought in old cars and repaired them for use on the road.

Chairs, tables and cabinets are only a few items that wood class completed this year.

1968-print shop is upgraded and remodeled

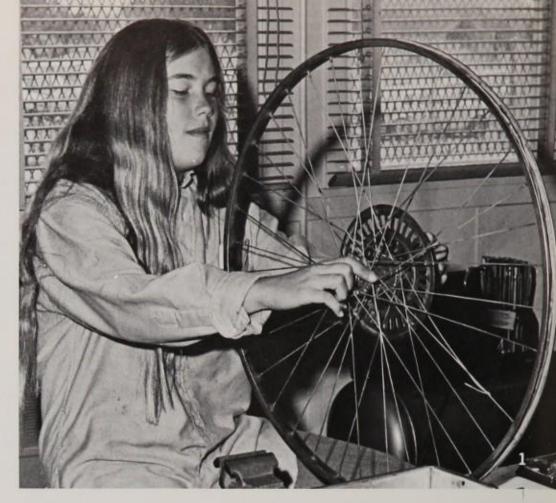

Each of these classes brought a new and exciting experience for all. In ROCP, students actually went out and experienced their classes—in the Fashion Merchandising at Sears, the bicycle repair class at Stanford Jr. High and the program at the American City Bank. Health Occupations gave students a chance to explore the health field and its possible career choices. The students spent Monday through Friday at a hospital. Wilson was host in the spring of '76 to competition for business students; many company personnel managers came to give trial job interviews. Elementary aid offered a chance to work with bright, energetic youngsters.

4. Show and tell time by Cory Cosenza fascinated the kids. Angie, the boa constrictor was rather blase about the whole matter. 5. Another problem arose as Tony Vaca madly dashed to find the answer on his 10-key calculator.

physical education and a special math class to help prepare students for the SAT's were both new at Wilson this year. The old standby social studies classes took on a new look with more variety for all.

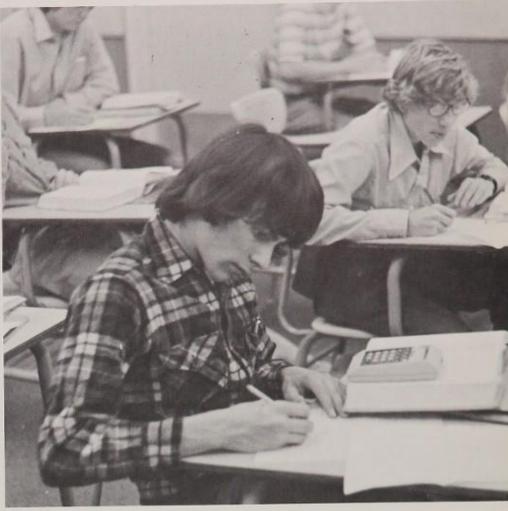

Additions and changes kept students interested in curriculum.

1. Jeniffer Wells didn't exactly agree with Miss Conrade on where the intestines are located in the squid. 2. With changing times students no longer rely on their fingers; it's their calculator. 3. Even after they heard it with their own ears, Debbie Stewart, Debbie Hayes and Eileen Tichenor had a hard time believing.

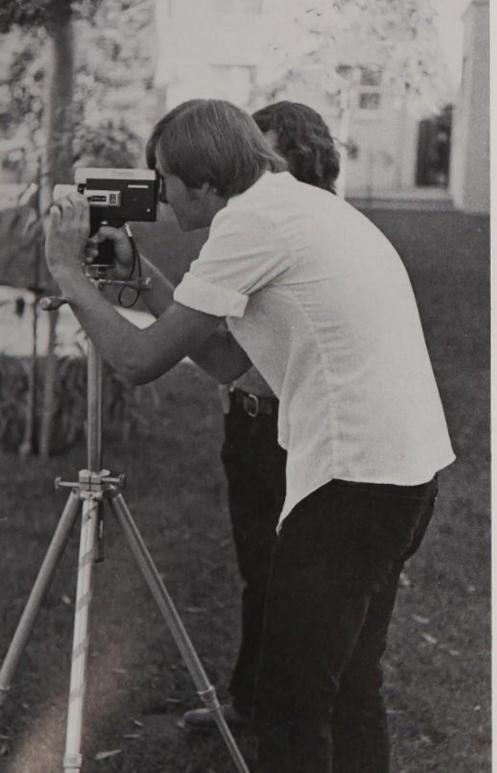

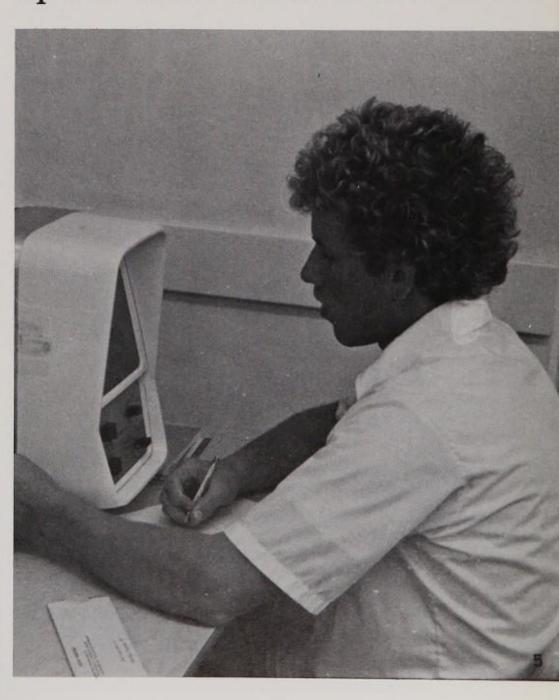

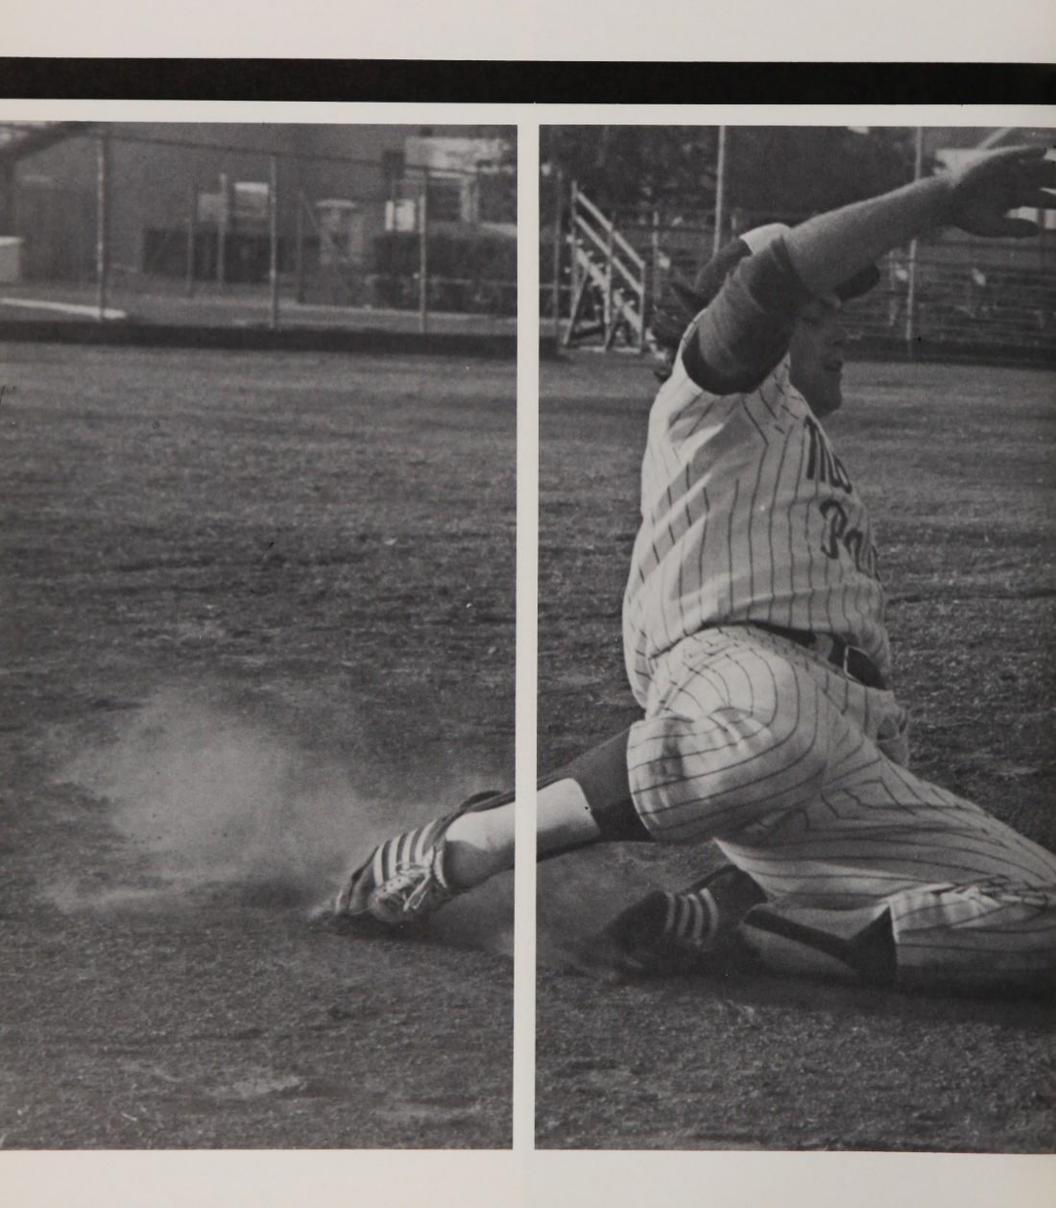

expression

Whether learning about our new surroundings, telling about last night's game, or even acting as another person, it fell under English and it's usage. No longer is English thought of as just verbs and nouns, for now through our large selection of elective English we can see that it is our total means of communication. Drama with its one acts completly directed and casted by Wilson's star struck students was a total success. Senior Honors in its third year continued to concentrate on independent studies. Once the English language is conquered, there are always obstacles for one to tackle, like learning to be the same person in a foreign language.

marked the excellence of the 1975 Varsity water polo team. Victorious over Lakewood, they held the title of Moore League Champions. Due to their physical size it was necessary that they played as a unit. Two strong contributors were Randy Kalbus, a three year veteran, and sophomore, Jody Campbell. Coach Zack believed that the team's good attitude also played an important role in the winning season.

played a pivotal role in the success of sophomore water polo team. "At the beginning of the year, the players had difficulty working together as a team," stated Coach Bob Gruneisen. After a preseason record of 8 wins, 4 losses, he was proud of their progress as a team and optimistic about their chances in the Moore League. Lance Lapay, Jon Danner, J.P. Pearce, Brad Bolicek, and Simone Lapay, first girl ever to be elected captain, played exceptionally well throughout the season.

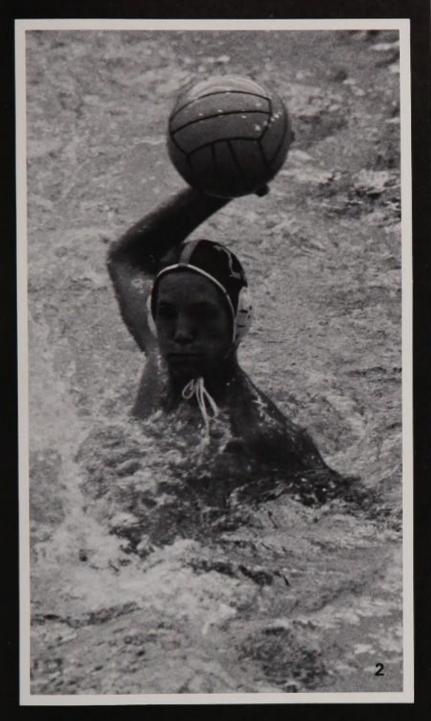

A J.V. pre-season record of 7 wins, 3 losses proved to be good practice for the team. After ironing out their problems, they pursued the league championship. Outstanding players were Matt McCormick, Jeff Dvonch, Dan Danner, Gregg Whelan, and Keith Dodson. The highlights of this year's season were the three victories, soph., J.V., and Varsity, over Downey and the wins against Milikan and Palo Verdes, which were the turning points of the season.

along at an unprecedented clip, Wilson's cross country team didn't lose a dual meet all year. The closest call came against Lakewood, when the Bruins narrowly prevailed, 24-34, to gain a second consecutive Moore League championship.

A win in the league meet Nov. 15 qualified Mr. Stemm's runners for the CIF semi-finals at Mt. Sac. A fourth place finish in the second of two heats there allowed the finest team in school history to qualify for the finals a week later; Wilson finished eighth.

Wilson also captured the Corona Del Mar, Long Beach, and Dos Pueblos Invitationals. Top performances were continually turned in by John Doud, Clark Cox, Kevin Walter, Jim Triplett, Steve Ahlgrin and Nick Gough, with both Cox and Doud breaking school records.

The JVs didn't lose until the league finals, finishing second to Lakewood and having to share the league title after going 5-0 in the dual meet season.

Dan Dik, Paul Manos, Steve Todd, and Gary Strassman were consistently outstanding JV. Sophomore Kristi Kucera competed all year with the boys, and was the first girl to finish in the Corona Del Mar meet.

by opening losses to West Torrance and Fountain Valley, new head coach Jon Meyer and his varsity team rallied against El Rancho and won Wilson's first home game since 1973. Tailback Dale Oden muscled 173 yards in 23 carries and crashed through the Don's defense for both Wilson touchdowns. Riding high on the El Rancho victory, the team next threatened highly rated Mater Dei. The Bruins entered the second half with a 13-7 lead, but Mater Dei then stifled Wilson's offense and took advantage of a last quarter fumble to win. The Bruins started Moore League competition with a 1-3 record, but with valuable experience culled from tough pre-season play.

a disheartening pre-season, Wilson's squad was up for their Moore League opener with Millikan. The defense smothered all Ram scoring threats while the ground game accounted for all the points needed in a 13-0 blanketing. Wilson's defense again overcame shabby ball handling and held tough while Kent Dyer sparked the scoring with an 89 yard kickoff return and a touchdown run of 13 yards, giving the team a homecoming victory over Jordan.

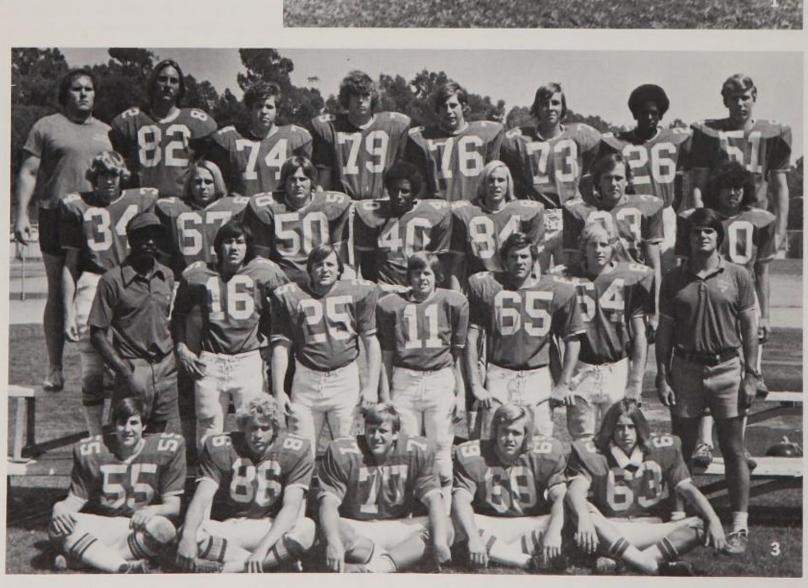

Entering the Poly game with more on the line than just rivalry, namely the Moore League title, the Wilson Bruins gave away the game by committing six turnovers. A poor kicking game also added to the team's downfall, with the entire effort producing a 13-31 shellacking at the paws of the Jackrabbits.

Wilson bounced back from the Poly loss, using a balanced attack to defeat Compton, 20-7. Dyer raced for 111 yards while quarterback Mike Peters enjoyed his best effort of the season. An 80 yard fourth quarter pass from Peters to Ron Hall sealed a victory over Lakewood, clinching Wilson's first playoff berth in six years.

The team entered the first playoff contest with high hopes. Wilson's line controlled the game for the most part, but a last minute scoring drive by Foothill resulted in a loss, 17-23.

by the play of Chris Steinhauser, Tom Purcell and Dane Westby, the JV football team struggled through the preseason with a 2-2 record. A team effort led to a 14-7 victory over Glendale-Hoover. Injuries to first-stringers contributed to losses against El Rancho and Fountain Valley. Returning to full strength, the Bruins rolled over Mater Dei in their final preseason game.

Opening Moore League play, Bruins turnovers were costly in a 19-12 loss to Millikan. Coach Dave Burcham described Wilson's massacre of Jordan as "our best effort of the season." A 14-7 victory over Poly did not reflect the outstanding effort by the Bruins. In the final game of the season, a Wilson drive halted on the Lakewood 1 yard line as the gun sounded, providing the margin of victory for the Lancers.

for the season's play, this year's sophomore team played a tough preseason schedule, finishing 1-2-1. Opening with a furious defensive contest, the sophomores fought West Torrance to a 0-0 tie. During the next two games, the defense remained tough, but the offense floundered, causing consecutive losses to Fountain Valley and El Rancho. Coming on hard in the final game before league play, the sophs beat Mater Dei soundly, 26-0, to set the tempo for the season, which began against Millikan.

The sophomores were well prepared as they began the season by trouncing Millikan, 18-0, with the defense playing consistently strong. But against Jordan, bad luck, errors and tougher opposition caused the first loss of the season. However, the sophs came back fired up and beat Poly soundly, 12-7, with only the special teams letting down to allow a score. Compton was the next step to what would prove to be the championship game. After beating the Tarbabes decisively, the sophs, now 3-1, entered the final game against Lakewood for the league championship. At the end of this defensive contest, the score stood 6-6, and the sophomores were the co-champs of the Moore League.

combined with talent to strengthen the 1976 gymnastics team. Easy wins over El Rancho and San Clemente led to a startling upset of CIF contenders Arroyo and Rowland. Yet poor performances against Venice contributed to a one-sided loss. Junior Jorge Cazares, a star of the future, led Wilson as one of the top all-round men in CIF, along with senior free-ex supers Anna Cook and Diana Alarcon. Completing preseason with a 4-2 mark, the Bruins opened Moore League against rival Millikan, which had beaten Wilson last year. Meets against CIF contenders Westminster and Lakewood were tough. Although completing a fine season this year, the young Wilson team has a lot to look forward to next year.

swim teams are becoming a tradition at Wilson, with the Varsity team extending their dual meet win streak through its fourth year. Led by Randy Kalbus, "an outstanding leader and athlete," according to Coach Gruneisen, the team earned many honors, including the Moore League Championship and first place in the CIF Relays. Other swimmers instrumental in this years success were Jody Campbell, Marcel Jordan, Kerry Kemp, David Stea, Dan Gildea, Dan Danner, Jim Wood, and Pete Siemsen. With very few seniors graduating, the outlook is even brighter for next year.

Lance Lapay, Jon Danner, Scott Kimball, Jody Campbell, Brian Locke, Kevin Carr, Brad Bolicek, and Simone Lapay led what coach Gruneisen called "an extremely talented group." Jeff Dvonche, Manfred Siemsen, Keith Dodson, Todd Merril, and Kasey Carsen were the backbone of the Junior Varsity Team, which also sported a winning record in league, 3-2.

Bruins opened their 75-76 season with Chris Smith and Gary Mulder leading the way in a win over Artesia. Gary Mulder's 39 points clinched third place in the Huntington Beach Tournament as Wilson beat Servite. Wilson went on to defeat Los Alamitos.

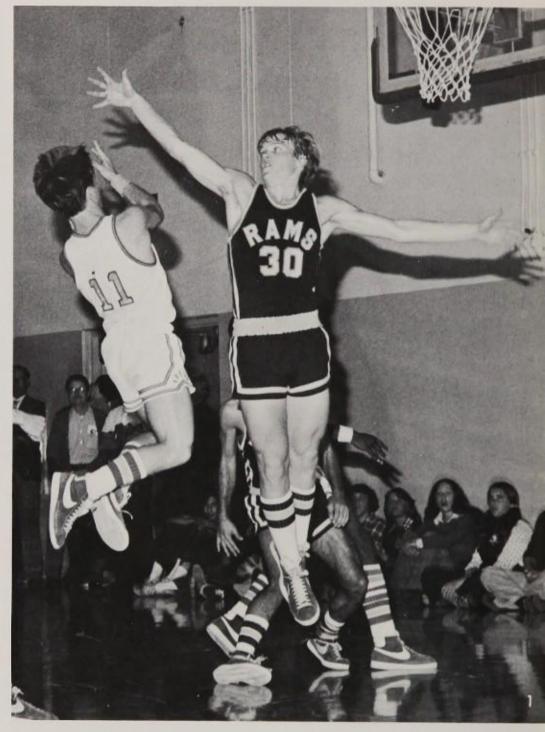

A 13 point lead didn't help in an overtime loss to Lowell. Victories over San Clemente and Loara for the Bruins salvaged the Katella consolation title. Led by Greg Clarke Wilson coasted to win over Murphy. The Bruins led by Gary Mulder and Steve Hunt went on to triumph over St. Anthony's in a rematch. A game marked with 69 fouls led to the defeat of the Bruins at Torrance. Wilson's preseason ended with a 10-6 record.

1. Hesitation proved helpful as Steve Hunt scored a basket. 2. Concentration was evident in the faces of the Bruins. 3. A look of disgust crossed Coach Taylor's face. 4. Greg Clarke muscled his way to the basket. 5. Crashing the boards, Kevin Riley came off with the rebound. 6. Stifled by his defender, Doug Lisle turned to pass.

and defense provided the Bruins with their first Moore League win over Jordan after an opening loss to Millikan. Overpowered by number one ranked Poly, Wilson lost 79-55. Invading the Bruin gym, a much taller Compton team dominated inside and put Wilson down to its third defeat in league. A home court advantage and the absence of Millikan's leading scorer could not help the Bruins as they suffered their fourth straight defeat.

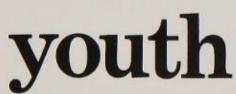

Gary Mulder and Steve Hunt led a balanced attack that snapped the Bruin losing streak with a win at Jordan. A Moore League single game high of 42 points by Gary Mulder was the only bright spot in a 13 point loss to Compton.

Wilson closed out their 13-13 season with an outstanding win over Lakewood. Gary Mulder succeeded Neil Arnold as scoring champion thus ending a not so phenomenal season.

1967-mighty bruins knock off poly, ending 35 game winning streak marked Coach Barnett's line-up, with the JV basketball team finishing their preseason with a 14-4 record. Although hurt by lack of height, the JV's led by Mark Oberjuerge and Buddy SanJose enjoyed a first and second place finish in the Warren and El Monte Tournaments respectively.

Coming off a successful preseason, JV's were disappointed with a 5-5 league and third place finish. Sometimes hot, sometimes cold the team was close to winning each league game. A two point loss to Compton, and a 47 point win at Jordan were high spots in the season.

Outstanding shooting made up for lack of experience, as the Sophs compiled an 8-5 preseason mark. With Frank Guadagnini, Mark Hankinson, and Rick Jones leading the way the Sophs displayed the Bruin method of hustle and defense. The Sophs ran into Moore League trouble early but eventually bounced back with spirited wins over Jordan and Poly.

losses to Milikan and Lakewood dropped the Varsity Wrestling team to third place. Led by captains V.Mardesich, R.Johnsen, and A.Koos, the team "did well to finish as strongly as we did, considering the lack of a full-time coach" according to Coach Summers. The team, particularly Johnsen, Mardesich, M. Megli, and E. Myer, has high hopes for the CIF finals. The J.V.'s suffering from losses of talent to the varsity ranks, also finished in third place. J.V. standouts were J. San Jose, A. Gonzales, M.Benevedez, and undefeated J. Schleimer.

strides, and hurdles summed up the Varsity Track work outs. This year long, strenuous training paid off. Wilson Bruins beat Millikan in the league opener. A loss to Jordan set the Bruins back, and a two point loss to Poly ruined Wilson's chances at a title.

Outstanding pole vaulter B.Cox vaulted 14 feet doing well in league. Mike Wilkinson doubled as a long jumper and a high jumper giving Wilson a boost in the events. Relays were Wilson's strong point. In the 440 relay D.Oden, D.Polk, M.Triplett, and A.Van flew around the track. In the mile relay Wilson's Cross Country experience paid off. H. Averetta, R.Koenker, N.Gough, and A.Van made up the varsity mile relay team.

The trackmen had very close defeats but also overpowering victories and proved to be a tough opponent within league action. The forceful JV squad was able to backup the Varsity while still holding their own. Plowing through the track season the team strived for an undefeated record.

describes golf at Wilson. Few sports here at Wilson perform with the consistent excellence that the Wilson High Golf Team does. Over the past five years, Wilson has captured three Moore league titles, and were favored to continue this winning trend again this year. Led by one of the finest golfers in the CIF, Peter Graves, who has been All-City and All-League for the past two years, returning varsity letterman Skip Irwin, and sophomore Kevin Payne, Wilson was set for the season. Coach Marty Walker claimed that the junior and sophomore talent was among the finest in the city, insuring continued success in the years to come.

All-City stars Craig Kussman and Carl Hess played a vital part in the Varsity Tennis Team's quest for the Moore League Crown. An experienced squad of six returning letterman triggered Coach Robert Hendricks' remark, "This is my best team in 20 years of coaching."

Ripping through preseason with only two losses to tennis powers Palos Verdes and Newport Harbor, the Bruins opened league against always tough Millikan followed by matches against Jordan, the defending champion Poly, much improved Compton and closed out play against Lakewood.

Headed for Moore League action, Wilson's JV tennis team finished an explosive preseason with a 7-1 record. The number one player Andy Reece helped Wilson manhandle Millikan in the Moore League opener. Tough matches against Poly and Lakewood culminated in the league championship.

their way into the starting line-up, juniors were prominent on the Varsity baseball team. Right-handers Terry Kassien and Bob Macias, a transfer student from Florida, headed the pitching staff; they helped the Bruins off to a fast start in the Moore League with first outing wins. Kassien recovered nicely from a troublesome elbow injury and promised to be even better as a senior. Eleventh graders Chris Smith (first base), Kim Warr (shortstop) and Terry Fifer (catcher) sparkled on the infield as well as at-bat. Captain Curt Shafer, one of the few returning lettermen, did an excellent job at second base, anchoring the infield.

First was the return of lettergirls' sweaters. Each girl was required to attend the majority of the practices and games to earn a letter. Letters were presented at an awards assembly at the end of each semester. An awards banquet was planned at the end of the year with most valuable player awards given.

Rainy weather was a problem for the girls' basketball teams. To overcome this obstacle, morning practices were held in the gym. Three teams were chosen with eight girls on each. Ms. Terry Stevens coached the teams.

Uneven parallel bars, balance beam and vaulting horse were some of the equipment fifth period gymnastics class worked with. The girls were required to attend one after school practice on Tuesday for the first Jemester. Yvette Lindsey was thankful for Sylvia Marquez's humble offering while Carol Howells looked on.

Jesse Hardy munched that long awaited bite.

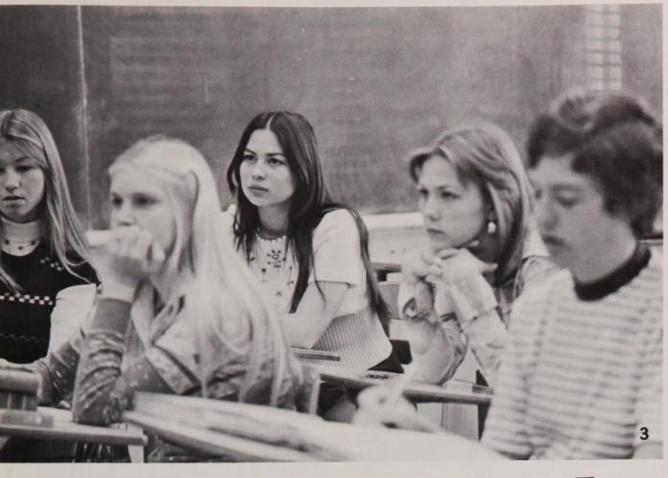

2. Fall officers were Rhonda Parkins, president; Dena Christoffersen, vice-president; Shellie Falke, secretary. 3. Student council members listened attentively as meeting progressed.

4. Neither fog, nor cold, nor early hours could keep sophomores away from decorating a homecoming float. 5. Spring officers were Scott Merrill, president; Jeff Disney, vice-president; and Denice Weller, secretary.

thoughts of money and how to raise it dominated much of sophomore class council's time. In addition to various sucker sales held throughout the year, sophomore class made pancakes for homecoming breakfast, sold hot buttered corn and ran a sweet shop booth during homecoming festivities.

Council meetings were held every Wednesday morning headed by fall officers Rhonda Parkins, president; Dina Christoffersen, vice-president; and Shellie Falke, secretary. Spring officers were Scott Merrill, president; Jeff Disney, vice-president; and Denise Weller, secretary.

Ms. Valerie Hoffmen sponsored the council.
